Graduate Admission Requirements

Preparing for Undergraduate Study at OSU

Students who need additional academic preparation before beginning an undergraduate or graduate program of study may wish to join Undergraduate Pathway, Graduate Pathway or Academic English Program offered through WDO on the Oregon State campus. The Pathway program combines intensive English language study, academic skills development and university coursework designed to help students achieve academic success in the first year of a degree program. Undergraduate Pathway programs are nine months in length and are offered in four disciplines: business, engineering, science or natural resources and general studies. Graduate Pathway programs are offered for master's degrees in business administration and engineering.

The academics offered at OSU have AACSB accreditation. OSU was named as a "Best in the West" by The Princeton Review's 2011 Best Colleges Region (Western), USA Today's annual "Best in the West" survey of U.S. states, 2011-2012 year OSU's new admission process was released.

Top 10

OSU offers several parallel channels for international undergraduate students including the International Cultural Service Program (ICSP) and International Private Scholarships. Some scholarships are merit based, with no separate application required, others are competitive and require a separate application. For more on scholarships, visit osuadmissions/International/awards/totalaid.php.

Assistantships and fellowships are sometimes available for graduate students. For most, contact your prospective OSU department or the Graduate School, for more information.

Life on Campus

In this section, you will find more than 300 organizations, ranging from the academic and professional to the cultural and religious.

OSU hosts a wide array of lectures, conferences, international and social activities on and off campus. Many of these are held in the Memorial Union, the beautiful and popular central gathering place of campus.

OSU offers 10 residence halls and on-campus apartment complexes for couples and families. A weekend learning Center will welcome international students in September 2010! There is also a wide variety of off-campus housing within walking distance or accessible by public transportation. Our on-campus dining facilities and nearby restaurants and cafes will provide you with an opportunity to meet with friends, meet new people and explore different cuisines.

With Being Beaver as our mascot, OSU students compete in 16 sports for the Oregon State University athletic programs, 22 club sports and 22 intramural sports every year. At OSU, you will find a wealth of support services to help you achieve academic success. These include our:

• Career Services
• Center for Writing and Learning
• Student Health Services
• Disability Access Services
• Counseling and Psychological Services
