

To Swim with the Salmon:
Spirituality and Ecojustice in the Pacific Northwest
TENTATIVE CONFERENCE SCHEDULE
April 25, 2009

- 9:00-9:40 doors open, light refreshments and beverages, check in, name tags, visit art gallery
- 9:40-10:00 gathering ceremony: native musicians, readings, welcome, introducing the day
- 10:00-11:15 John Hart, "Salmon as Icon" followed by brief Q & A
- 11:15-11:30 stretch break, interact with art and artists
- 11:30-12:15 Elizabeth Woody, "People of the River, People of the Salmon"
- 12:15-12:20 introducing lunch and breakout sessions
- 12:20-1:15 catered lunch, interact with art and artists, visit merchandise table, take a walk, rest at the meditation alcove, mingle
- 1:15-2:15 participate in one of five breakout sessions:
- + Interfaith Food and Farms Partnerships (Ecumenical Ministries of Oregon)
 - + Where Spirituality and Public Policy Meet (Oregon Synod Bishop David Brauer-Rieke)
 - + Connecting Children to Creation and Creator
(John and Louise Gingerich, Drift Creek Nature Center)
 - + Indigenous Perspectives of Spirituality and Earth Care (Elizabeth Woody)
 - + Film: "River Ways" a documentary about the Snake River -- people, place, dams (Colin Stryker)
- 2:15-2:30 traveling time, refreshment break, interact with art and artists
- 2:30-3:45 John Hart, "Salmon as Indicator" followed by Q & A
- 3:45-4:00 closing ceremony: native musicians, readings, wrap up, thank you, farewell

