Oregon State University Resources Handout

Intercultural Student Services (Adapted from http://oregonstate.edu/dept/iss/)

Location: 150 Kerr Administration Building

The Intercultural Student Services (ISS) is committed to the overall development of under-served students. We create and advocate for inclusive and educationally purposeful initiatives that enhance deep learning, academic success, cross-cultural fluency and self-efficacy by fostering a climate that supports social equality, community engagement, and global membership.

What We Do

- We also help new students orient and transition to OSU’s campus
- Provide individual informal/formal mentoring and support, referral to services, and advocacy for personal, interpersonal, academic, career, cultural, spiritual development and success
- Develop, present, and coordinate educational programs for students contributing toward retention and success including academic counseling, personal, social, interpersonal, cultural, career issues; leadership and professional development; organization development; intercultural effectiveness, community service, and social justice. We also engage in consultation and teaching.

International Resource Center (Adapted from http://oregonstate.edu/sli/isosu/irc)

Location: Memorial Union Lounge West Wing Lounge

The International Resource Center (IRC) was established as a space where international students and culturally curious locals can gather. The IRC is always open for use to come in do homework, watch international channels on our TV, use the computers, or just eat your lunch.

Disability Access Services (Adapted from http://ds.oregonstate.edu/home/)

Location: A200 Kerr Administration Building

Disability Access Services facilitates access to University programs and services for students, faculty, staff, and visitors with disabilities through accommodations, education, consultation, and advocacy.
Goals

- Provide effective accommodations for students with disabilities based on law and current best practices.
- Provide education and consultation to the campus community about disability issues.
- Positively influence decision-making and practices that promote inclusive and accessible programs and services for students, faculty, staff, and visitors at Oregon State University.
- Promote and facilitate individual responsibility for requesting, using, amending, and canceling accommodations due to disability.

Office of Equity and Inclusion (Adapted from http://oregonstate.edu/oei/)

Location: Snell Hall

The Office of Equity and Inclusion is committed to success for the entire university community through equality, fairness, and understanding. Our work is guided by three principles: equity, inclusion and diversity.

In service to both OSU and the broader community, the Office of Equity and Inclusion provides expertise and leadership in the following areas:

- Engaging in community development through involvement with an array of equity and inclusion efforts
- Working to eliminate barriers to achievement for individuals and groups historically underrepresented in higher education
- Responding to discrimination complaints through investigation and resolution
- Providing advice and assistance to individuals who believe they have experienced bias or discrimination
- Promoting understanding about affirmative action, equal opportunity, diversity, and inclusion

Ombuds Office (Adapted from http://oregonstate.edu/ombuds/)

Location: Waldo 113 & 116

The Ombuds assists with individual concerns through service and education, and serves as a change agent to address group conflict and systemic concerns. It is the goal of the Ombuds to foster a culture of healthy, safe and open dialogue, and facilitate cooperative problem resolution.
Counseling and Psychological Services (CAPS) provides a variety of services to the OSU community to address the challenges and difficulties students face. These services are designed to help students understand themselves better, create and maintain satisfying relationships, improve their academic performance, and make healthy and satisfying career and life choices.

Location: 500 Snell Hall

Counseling and Psychological Services (CAPS) provides a variety services to the OSU community to address the challenges and difficulties students face. These services are designed to help students understand themselves better, create and maintain satisfying relationships, improve their academic performance, and make healthy and satisfying career and life choices.

Counseling and Psychological Services
- Individual, couples, and group counseling
- Consultation

Outreach and Engagement
- Outreach
- Mind Spa

Therapeutic Equipment Loans
- Psychiatric Services
- Light Therapy Loans
- EmWave Personal Stress Reliever Loans