Oregon State University Dormitory Lodging

Oregon State University is reserving rooms in a dormitory for the IIFET 2000 Conference. The dormitory is arranged with a shared bathroom between every two rooms. Each room has two beds. Bedding and towels are provided for each person. Breakfast may be purchased in the cafeteria. Lunch and dinner are also available for reasonable charges. The meeting site is on campus and is walking distance from the dormitory. Restaurants are within walking distance as well. Sharing a room with a roommate costs $25 per person. Having a room without a roommate costs $50. The dormitory is not air conditioned. Televisions are not available in the sleeping rooms, but are available in lounge areas. Families can be assigned adjoining rooms with a shared bathroom. Corvallis Transit buses can be used from a campus location. Downtown Corvallis is about 1.5 miles and is a nice walk.

If you wish to stay in the dormitory, it will be necessary to contact Pam Garland, IIFET Conference Coordinator, for reservations and room assignments.

Ground Transportation Information

Travel to Corvallis requires using some form of ground transportation. Listed below are rental car agencies available at the airports. Best rates can be obtained by making your arrangements as early as possible. Many of the companies have easy-to-use online booking. ## Airport Shuttle Service Arrangements

Shuttle transportation to Corvallis from any of the airports can be arranged through Pam Garland, Conference Coordinator. If you did not select a shuttle service option when you filled out the registration form, you may add the service by contacting Pam.

Local IIFET Shuttle Service Arrangements

The 7 hotels/motels listed are providing rooms for the IIFET 2000 Conference at a conference rate. They will have an IIFET shuttle to provide basic transportation to and from the meeting site. The Bed and Breakfasts and Dormitory will not provide transportation to the meeting site. The Dormitory is walking distance. Some of the Bed and Breakfasts are also walking distance. Nearly all of the housing options are within a 3 mile radius of the meeting site. Most lodging options are also serviced by local Corvallis Transit buses which are safe and inexpensive.
