ONLINE PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT FORUM

In July, the School of Education sponsored a forum for Oregon Education Service District Superintendents, Curriculum Directors and Directors of Staff Development to introduce the new online Professional Development System and Prospectus, a tool to assist districts to manage the new professional development requirements for continuing licensure that become effective January 2002.

Seventy-five dignitaries from around the state attended the day-long forum, which began with welcoming statements from President Risser and Dean Kinsey Green. Director Wayne Haverson then outlined the development of eight online courses and 24 professional development modules spearheaded by the School of Education, followed by Mark Merickel's presentation of the features of the Professional Development System (http://pds.orst.edu) and the online professional development planner known as Prospectus. Later, faculty who had developed Web modules participated in breakout groups and discussions about online teaching and learning. After lunch the invited guests participated in a round-table discussion in which they gave feedback to OSU on PDS and Prospectus as well as the professional development needs of Oregon teachers.

Created by Mark Merickel from the School of Education and Stephen Mosley from Information Systems, with the assistance of Bob Baker (IS) and Bonnie Morihara (SOE), the Professional Development System is praised as a great resource for anytime, anywhere learning, an innovative use of web-based technology, and an excellent marketing tool for both online graduate courses and non-credit professional development offered by all colleges in OSU.

UNIVERSITY CURRICULUM PROPOSAL WORKSHOP

On Tuesday, Sept. 21, 1-3 p.m., Crop & Soil Science Room 122, Academic Affairs will hold a Curriculum Proposal Workshop. Anyone interested in learning more about the Curricular Review Process is invited to attend. At least one individual from each department should attend. The following will be covered: how to submit successful Category I and II curriculum proposals; what they are, where you can find the forms and status reports; how to fill out and submit the forms; and the review process. Experienced curriculum proposal writers as well as newcomers will benefit from the workshop.

Another Curriculum Proposal Workshop is scheduled for Friday, 10/15 from 9-11 a.m.

FACULTY RELEASE TIME PROGRAM
The Research Office Faculty Release Time Program will continue for the 1999-2000 academic year. Limited support is available for tenure-track faculty to be released from one course in one term to develop research proposals. The course in question must be taught. Amount of funding will be based on replacement cost to teach the course, rather than on the awardee's salary. Preference will be given to newer and more junior faculty and to those applications that describe incisive, innovative research questions with a strong likelihood of funding.

Application deadline for Winter Term, 2000 is October 1, 1999. An application and information may be obtained from the Research Office or Barb Harris in the Dean's Office, MLM 112.
EVENTS/MEETINGS THIS WEEK

FACULTY SELECTED AS SEMI-FINALISTS
ALAN SUGAWARA, JOANNE SORTE AND YOUNGHEE KIM are among fifty Oregon educators or teams of educators selected as semifinalists for the Oregon Innovators in Education Awards. Twenty-five finalists will be selected by a national panel of judges in November. Recipients will each receive a $2,000 award and other honors at the Oregon Innovators in Education Conference to be held February 18-19 at the CH2M Hill Alumni Center.

A faculty development fund established by Mr. and Mrs. L.L. Stewart has made funds available each year to enable recipients to keep current in their professional fields and to improve upon their abilities to serve OSU and its students. Emphasis is upon activities that enhance the professional development of individual professors and that result in improved teaching.

The amount of each award made to an individual or faculty team up to the maximum of $2,200 will depend upon the scope of the proposal for professional development and its projected contribution to the improvement of instruction.

Department Heads should have a copy of the guidelines. You may request a hard copy of the application form by e-mailing gigi.bruce@orst.edu. The deadlines for this academic year are October 29, 1999 and January 31, 2000.

INFORMATION REGARDING HEALTH INSURANCE
Open enrollments for various health plans will end during the first week in November. All faculty and staff must submit a form specifying their choice for coverage. Be sure to notice that the medical benefit provided does not cover the full cost of some of the plans. The next informational meeting is scheduled for October 18, 10:30 and 1:30 at LSC.

It was announced at the Open Enrollment meeting this morning that if two people in the same family sign up with Blue Cross Basic Plan, you will receive more cash by both staying in the plan and not opting out.

OCTOBER 7 FACULTY SENATE MINUTES

Two resolutions of sympathy were passed for Dwight Bushnell and David Nicodemus.

1. Graduate Student Unionization

Administrators view can be viewed on web site - http://www.osu.orst.edu/admin/hr/hr.htm
Coalition of graduate employees (CGE) - http://www.peak.org/~lge
Passed out a stipend comparison with UO which is unionized. OSU's stipend has been higher historically. Stressed that faculty need to study the issues, participate in dialogue and encourage all students to vote. Simple majority will determine the outcome.

2. Post Tenure Review

President Risser proposed three changes to Faculty Senate recommendations from last year.
1. Either the unit head or the faculty member should have the prerogative of requesting a Five Year Review before the end of the five-year interval. Waiting as long as five years to review a faculty member whose performance is lacking or questionable is simply too long.
2. He could not in good conscience assign the professional future of a faculty member to a peer committee of faculty. As described in the report, the committee would have no institutional responsibility or accountability. And yet, such a committee could place the University at financial and legal risk.
3. Any decision made about changes in responsibilities or sanctions must be made by the unit head since this is the person who has line responsibility to the University. The unit head must seek guidance and recommendations from the peer committee in the review process, but only a university officer (who in turn is subjected to institutional accountability) can have ultimate responsibility for any such professional requirements and sanctions.

AAUP opposes these changes and a resolution was passed reaffirming Faculty Senate's position and asking for a discussion as to why these three changes are necessary. Passed.

3. Rob Specter gave a report on the budget allocation to OSU. Model's acceptance was good news. New money was allocated at approximately 5.8% increase. First real dollar increase in 10 years. Enrollment is up approximately 8% to 15,780 students. Total revenue increase from tuition is up 11%. There has been 53 million in budget requests. A reserve fund needs to be set up also. Draft allocations will begin at the deans level next week. Budget should be out by the end of October. 11.4 million was allocated for faculty compensation. Nine million of this was needed for benefit increases. That only leaves 2.4 million for faculty raises. There will be some self funding or raises but specific allocations of this funding has not been determined.

4. Provost Roy Arnold thanked everyone for their support and encouragement in his battle with breast cancer with lymph node involvement. He reported he is currently in chemotherapy and will begin hormone treatment next.

10/23 HOMECOMING

NEW FACULTY "FEATURED" THIS WEEK
THERESE WATERHOUS holds two positions in the College: Instructor in Nutrition and Food Management Department for fall term; and Instructor/Health Coordinator for the OSU Child Development Center, Oregon Head Start Prekindergarten program, Department of Human Development and Family Sciences for the academic year. She previously held a nutrition consultant position with KidCo Head Start in Linn and Benton counties. Therese received a B.S. in food and nutrition in 1982 from OSU; a MS degree in clinical nutrition in 1986, and a Ph.D. in nutrition biochemistry in 1993, both from the Univ. of Alabama.

CARMEN STEGGELL, Assistant Professor in Apparel, Interiors, Housing and Merchandising, is not a stranger to OSU. She previously held a temporary instructor position in AIHM last winter and spring terms; was an Instructor in Human Development and Family Sciences Department in 1992; and held a teaching assistant position in that department during the 1990-91 academic year. Along with teaching, she also has her own business, Steggell & Associates, consultants for housing and personal financial management programs in education, counseling and research. Carmen received her Ph.D. degree in family resource management, housing and sociology here at OSU in 1992.

Carmen recently bought a house in a new subdivision with lots of bare dirt around the house. She would be grateful to hear from anyone who is thinning out and wanting to share their mature (ah, envy), shade-loving plants!

ENTERTAINMENT BOOKS AVAILABLE

Grace Center for Adult Day Services is selling Entertainment Books, which provide discounts on restaurants, lodging, and entertainment throughout Oregon, but particularly in the Willamette Valley. The books cost $35, but the cost can be recouped with as few as one or two of the available options.

If you would like more information, or to purchase a book for this worthy cause, contact ALEXIS WALKER, 7-1083.

AIHM GRADUATE CLASS HAS PAPER ACCEPTED FOR AAHE

AIHM 588, Housing Theory class, taught by CARMEN STEGGELL, produced a paper that will be presented at American Association of Housing Educators Conference and will be submitted for publication in a few weeks. This will be the first publication for several of the students, and two of them will attend the conference in Orlando this week.

CALL FOR PAPERS PUBLISHED IN KAPPA OMICRON NU FORUM
Faculty are encouraged to contribute to the publication, Kappa Omicron Nu Forum, the journal of Kappa Omicron Nu Honor Society. The topic, "Service Learning: Its Opportunity and Promise," focuses on theory and "Best Practices" that anchor learning and teaching to rich experiential contexts. By engaging learners, opportunities are available to give new dignity to the service dimension, enrich learning, and renew commitment to reciprocal community and university partnerships and collaborations. Critical perspectives on connecting practice and research in the learning environment around "real world" issues faced by communities, provide salient means to implement programming for an education, responsible citizenry and career preparation. Authors are invited to explore and share different perspectives on forms of engagement that service learning offers in meeting the challenges and opportunities for learners today and into the next millennium.

Information and Deadline: Kappa Omicron Nu Forum is a refereed publication outlet for both members and nonmembers. Manuscripts are due August 31, 2000.

For further information or to obtain a copy of "Guidelines for Authors," contact: Dr. Dorothy I. Mitstifer, Editor, 4990 Northwind Drive, Suite 140, East Lansing, MI 48823-5031; phone (517) 351-8335 or e-mail: dmitstifer@kon.org or Barb Harris has information sheet in Dean's Office, MLM 114.

HOLIDAY WREATH SALE UNDERWAY

If you are interested in buying a wreath for the holidays, check out the bulletin board in the Dean's Office, MLM 114. A flyer posted shows the various types of wreaths available with a signup sheet attached. Proceeds go to Willamette Valley Community School here in Corvallis. Deadline for ordering is November 15. For further information, call LESLIE RICHARDS at 7-1071.

NEW FACULTY "FEATURED" THIS WEEK

ANN MARCHANT has joined the Nutrition and Food Management Department as an Instructor for fall term. Ann has also taught nutrition courses at LBCC and OSU in the past. She received an M.S. degree in human nutrition at OSU in 1983, and completed work for registered dietitian title in 1988.

ELLEN SYVERSEN began work on October 4th in Lane County as Extension Family & Community Development faculty. Her primary responsibilities are for Expanded Food and Nutrition Education Program (EFNEP) and the Oregon Family Nutrition Project (OFNP) in that county.

Ellen has 10 years of domestic and international experiences in developing, implementing and evaluating programs to improve public health and welfare. She has diverse professional background at the federal, state and local level working on issues in nutrition, health and wellness, maternal and child health, senior services and tobacco prevention.

Ellen has an MPH from Tulane University School of Public Health, a BA from Ohio Wesleyan University and is a Certified Health Education Specialist. She previously was a nutritionist/trainer for the US Peace Corps, Niger, West Africa.

LAWRENCE ROSENKOETTER has a courtesy faculty appointment with the Family Policy Program. He was previously a professor of Psychology at Bethany College in Lindsborg, Kansas. He is a member of American Psychological Association, American Psychological Society, and Society for Research in Child Development. Teaching interests include developmental, social and personality psychology. Research interests are in moral development; altruism and prosocial behavior; television and children; and early intervention.

SHARON K. MILLER is an instructor in 4-H Youth Development Education in Klamath County. Before joining the 4-H program, Sharon was Program Administrator in the Klamath County Extension Service. She received a B.S. in management from OIT in December 1999; an AA in business from El Camino Junior College, Torrance, CA. She currently does volunteer work on Klamath County Commission on Children and Families, Oregon Department of Human Resources - Klamath County Family Empowerment Project and Productivity Enhancement Program - Russian Visit - Klamath Falls Basin Sunrise Rotary.

Sharon's outside interests include horses, music, golf, the outdoors.

SCHUSTER HAS WEBSITE MATERIAL PUBLISHED

ELLEN SCHUSTER has had 3 of her self-study modules on developing readable nutrition education materials and other low literacy information from her website (http://osu.orst.edu/dept/ehe/index2.html) published as part of the just released 1999 Diabetes Patient Education Manual for health care practitioners working with diabetes patients. The publisher of the manual is Aspen Publisher.

CAROL KNOTHE RETIRES

CAROL KNOTHE retired on September 30 after 29 years of service in Malheur County as Extension Home Economist and 4-H agent. Carol and her husband, Ken, will be staying in the area and doing some traveling. Congratulations Carol!

SCHOOL OF EDUCATION AWARDED PROJECT PROPOSAL

The School of Education has won the competition for the National Center for Research in Career and Technical Education funded by the US Department of Education in the amount of $2.25 million for next 5 years. OSU is now a partner with Univ. of MN (as lead), Penn State, Univ of Ill. and Ohio State Univ. in operating the National Center.

GEORGE COPA comments, "Nice work folks with getting the proposal together under very tight time lines during the summer; and now the real fun begins. Special thanks to KINSEY GREEN and Vice Provost Hayes for providing the seed money to make this all possible. And special thanks to WAYNE HAVERSON for encouragement when needed and seeing the proposal through all the right places, HILLARY GOODKIND for assisting with coordination of proposal development, and OTILA ZUSCHLAG for going the extra mile to get our budgets in shape."

Other faculty who were involved with the project: DAN DUNHAM, BETTY DUVALL, CASS DYKEMAN, CHRISTINE JENSEN, MARK MERICKEL, BONNIE MORIHARA, DON PRICKEL, ALEX SANCHEZ, CHRIS SOUTHERS, SAM STERN, WARREN SUZUKI, LEE COLE and GREG THOMPSON.
HOMECOMING A SUCCESS - ON AND OFF THE FIELD

A huge thank you to the following who helped with the CHEE display at Homecoming '99: NANCY SMITH, Dean's Office Staff, and Student Ambassadors JENNY SEMADENI, JENNIFER OAR, AND TONI PUSATERI.

Several departments provided displays: School of Education, AIHM Department, CHEE display from Student Services, and Extension Home Economics provided bookmarks.

Nancy Smith reported that several from the general public stopped by to take a look; alums came by and stopped to chat; and people who have an interest in being part of our College in the future stopped by also. Some good feedback was received from those who stopped by.

SOE IS SUCCESSFUL AGAIN

GEORGE COPA was notified this week that the consortium of Oregon State University, University of Minnesota, Ohio State University (lead institution), University of Illinois, and Penn State University has also won the competition for the National Center for Dissemination in Career and Technical Education funded by the U.S. Department of Education. Last week's newsletter reported similar information about the National Center for Research in Vocational Education. Like the Research Center, the Dissemination Center is funded at about $2.25 million each year for the next five years. So the funding for the two Centers is $4.5 million each year for the next five years or a total of $22.5 million.

Again, congratulations to GEORGE COPA for making all of this happen; to BETTY DUVALL, DAN DUNHAM and CASS DYKEMAN for representing us so very well at the planning meetings; to HILARY GOODKIND for her assistance in coordinating the development of the proposal; to MONICA JAMES and OTILIA ZUSCHLAG for all of their extra help with preparing materials and budgets; and to all of the faculty who submitted research or dissemination projects. Special thanks to DEAN KINSEY GREEN and VICE PROVOST HAYES for providing the seed money to support the proposal development.

We are planning a major celebration activity.

CFD CAMPAIGN UNDERWAY
The Charitable Fund Campaign has begun! Faculty and staff should have received a packet. There are seven funds/federations to choose from: Equity Foundation; Black United Fund of Oregon; Children's Trust Fund of Oregon; Local United Way; Environmental Federation of Oregon; Friends of Oregon Farms and Forests; and Oregon Health Appeal (note: beginning in the New Millenium the name will change to "Community Health Charities of Oregon"). There are several ways a person can give a gift to the Charitable Fund Drive: by cash or check, credit card/debit card, or Payroll Deduction.

The CFD Campaign runs through November. Please turn in your forms by November 30.

If you have questions, please call me at 7-0948. My office is located in 114 Milam Hall, or send an email to: smithn@orst.edu.

BEAVER OPEN HOUSE

The College of Home Economics and Education played a very active role in Beaver Open House on Saturday. Over 110 high school juniors, seniors, and some parents attended our general presentation given by KIM MCALEXANDER and Ambassadors KIM HENDERSON, KIM REGO, JASON HARRIS, TONI PUSATERI, ROSE SANDERS, JENNY SEMANDENI, and JENNIFER OAR. Departmental presentations were led by SHARON ROSENKOETTER, HDFS, FLORIAN CERKLEWSKI, NFM, and CAROL CAUGHEY, AIHM. Afternoon tours of our facilities and classrooms by the Ambassadors were well attended.

A huge thank you to all who assisted with this pivotal recruitment event!

CALL FOR RESEARCH PROPOSALS

The Center for Humanities invites proposals from OSU faculty for its resident fellowship program for 2000-01. Fellowships will be awarded to support OSU faculty to spend up to two terms of residence in the Center while engaged on a research project.

The Center is dedicated to the support of interdisciplinary humanities-related research. All projects proposed must be within the general boundaries of the humanities—which would include the humanities disciplines as traditionally defined as well as those projects within the social and natural sciences that are historical or philosophical in approach and that attempt to cast light on questions of interpretation or criticism traditionally found in the humanities, including the interpretation and assessment of science and technology.

Application forms can be obtained by calling 7-2450 or by emailing to Center for the Humanities (cfth@orst.edu). Applications must be submitted by 14 January 2000.

OSU RESEARCH OFFICE TO CONTINUE FUNDING CONSULTING SERVICES
Vice Provost Toby Hayes has announced his intention to continue funding an expansion of the consulting services offered by the Department of Statistics through its Statistical Consulting Laboratory.

A statistics faculty member associated with SCL will be available for consultation with faculty members from any OSU department or college. The Research Office is especially interested in facilitating statistical input to faculty investigators writing research proposals to granting agencies, reasoning that early and careful attention to issues of design, sample size, and statistical power will increase the funding prospects for OSU proposals. The consultants will help form the foundation for future grant-writing efforts.

The first two consulting sessions will be free of charge; more involved consulting and collaboration will be charged as a contract fee. Appointments will be scheduled on a first-come, first-served basis, and may be arranged by contacting Dr. Cliff Pereira, Director, SCL (7-1984; pereira@stat.orst.edu).

WOODROW WILSON HUMANITIES PROGRAMS

The Woodrow Wilson National Fellowship Foundation is pleased to announce the second year of programs to improve career opportunities beyond the academy for humanities doctoral students. Along with efforts to maximize good positions within the academy, these programs are part of a larger goal of the Foundation to unleash the full potential of the humanities throughout our society.

The Woodrow Wilson Practicum Grants Award of $1,500 to students who find a meaningful internship or other way to utilize their academic discipline in a context outside of college teaching and research. Applications are processed on a first-come-first served basis.

The Woodrow Wilson Innovation Awards will provide up to three $10,000 and up to three $5,000 grants to recognize and support departments and programs in the humanities that encourage Ph.D. students to interact with the world outside the academy as part of their graduate training. Proposals must be postmarked no later than May 15, 2000. The Woodrow Wilson Postdoctoral Careers continues to place recent graduates in positions in a wide range of companies and organizations. Twenty employers are currently actively recruiting through the Foundation's web site and more employers are joining the program all the time.

Further details and applications for all these programs can be found on our web site: http://www.woodrow.org/phd. Thank you for your continued support.

GERONTOLOGY CONFERENCE A SUCCESS
The 24th Annual OSU Gerontology Conference, "The Changing Context of Aging," was held on April 18-19 at the CH2M Hill Alumni Center. There were approximately 300 registrants, over 50 speakers or panelists, over 3 dozen volunteers, and nearly 30 exhibitors in attendance. The conference also featured a number of for-profit and not-for-profit sponsors: AARP Oregon State Office; Ankrom Moisan Associated Architects, Inc.; Good Samaritan Hospital; Holiday Retirement Corporation; Prestige Care; Providence ElderPlace; Regent Court; and Terra Nova Films, Inc.

Among the 50 sessions at the conference, 4 were presented by individuals from the College:

. SALLY BOWMAN (Extension Family and Community Development) and VICKI SCHMALL (Emeritus, Extension Family and Community Development): "Driving Decisions in Later Life"
. NANCY BRYANT (AIHM) "Clothing Concerns of Older Adults"
. ALAN ACOCK (HDFS) and ALAN SUGAWARA (HDFS), "The Doctor Said I Need Exercise...."
. DIANE WHITE (HDFS doctoral candidate), "Grief and Bereavement in Later Life"

Sessions were organized in five themes or tracks: adult foster and family care, clinical practice, coping with loss, environmental issues, and healthy aging.

In addition to two keynote sessions, a featured session was designed to help practitioners promote art activities in persons with dementia. This session was linked to a reception for "Kaleidoscope," a multimedia exhibit celebrating the creativity of individuals with Alzheimer's Disease or related disorders. The exhibit will remain in the MU through April 30th.

BRAKER & GREGERSON TO ATTEND 2000 HEALTH CONFERENCE
MARJORIE BRAKER and DONNA GREGERSON submitted a proposal to Priester 2000 Health Conference--Extension: Responding to Healthy People 2010 which will be held May 8-10 in Westminster, CO.

MARJORIE will lead the roundtable discussion.

Description of Roundtable Discussion Topic:

Collaborative efforts between Oregon State University's Extension faculty and the College of Health and Human Performance/Bone Research Lab resulted in the development of accredited workshops targeting exercise instructors reaching at-risk clientele in groups. Instructors increased their knowledge about bone health and specific exercises affecting bone density.

Relevance of Topic:

. Research shows that adults at risk for osteoporosis are more likely to adopt recommended exercises if they are involved in a group exercise program.

. Fitness instructors who lead community-based, group exercise programs are not necessarily knowledgeable about bone health and the exercises that reduce osteoporosis risk.

. Collaborative efforts between Extension community educators and university researchers effectively brought new osteoporosis risk reduction research and programming ideas to fitness professionals directly involved in teaching at-risk adults.

What Measures Have Been Utilized to Demonstrate Program Effectiveness?

1. The OSU Bone Research Lab conducted on-going research involving the exercise program on at-risk adults and continues to monitor the participants for increases in bone density, improvements in bone health and balance.
2. Participants in the community workshops report they have adopted the research-based risk reduction exercises into their exercise programs.
