

Stacey Todd stacey.todd@oregonstate.edu

Stacey relocated to the Klamath Basin in June of 2009. She became a substitute teacher for the Tulelake School District and found that she enjoyed teaching and wanted to pursue it further. Stacey began working for Oregon State University Extension Office in February of 2010. She is currently an Instructor and coordinator for the Oregon Family Nutrition Program, teaching low-income families and youth. Her pastimes include traveling, the outdoors, sustainable living and spending time in her new community. Stacey graduated with a Bachelor's of Science in Health and Community Services, California State University, Chico.
