

Nomination of Andrew Kaliher

When I think of someone who exemplifies an outstanding employee I think of Andrew Kaliher. The consummate team player, Andrew is one person that no matter how hard the job or challenging the task, Andrew will shrug his shoulders, bear down and get to work.

I particularly like his quick smile, easygoing personality, and no nonsense approach to difficult tasks. You know it's when something goes wrong on a job that you're really seeing someone's character. Rather than trying to shift blame to coworkers or to the customer, Andrew takes responsibility and initiative to make every job he is on the best it can be. I have been impressed with how he makes customers feel at ease. He gains the confidence and trust of each and every customer.

To my knowledge Andrew won't say no, he won't say can't, and he is certainly willing to go the extra mile to make it happen. He treats everyone with respect and with his pleasant demeanor he makes friends with every person he comes into contact with professionally. Before long he becomes like a member of the family.

Andrew Kaliher truly is a craftsman of the first order in addition to being a fun person to be around. I know for a fact he is an inspiration and catalyst behind the Luau. He sacrificed himself and worked tirelessly to make it happen.

One more thing, Andrew is the last person who would want to get an award for, "just doing his job." For all of these reasons I want to nominate Andrew Kaliher for Outstanding Employee here at Facilities Services. Facilities Services is a better place to work because of Andrew Kaliher.
