CRITICAL INCIDENT RESPONSE TEAM (CIRT)

The Oregon State University Critical Incident Response Team (CIRT) is an organized network of administrators, faculty, and staff who can provide consultation, assistance, and intervention when you are concerned about a distressed or disruptive student. For more information about CIRT see http://oregonstate.edu/deanofstudents/cirt.html

If you have answered the question, “Does the behavior place anyone in immediate risk?” in the affirmative and the very serious or threatening incident of distressed behavior occurs in the classroom, academic building, or on the campus, Oregon State Police should be contacted immediately by calling 737-7000.

For immediate response:
Oregon State Police 737-7000

Non-emergency contacts:

Dean of Students 737-8748
Jackie Balzer
200 Kerr Administration Bldg.
http://oregonstate.edu/deanofstudents/disrupt.html

Oregon State Police 737-3010
Department of Public Safety
200 Cascade Hall
http://oregonstate.edu/dept/security/

Student Conduct Office 737-3656
Dan Schwab, Coordinator
245 Snell Hall
http://oregonstate.edu/admin/stucon/

Counseling & Psychological Services 737-2131
Ellen Taylor, Director
500 Snell Hall
http://oregonstate.edu/dept/counsel/

Student Health Services 737-9355 or 737-2724
Lora Jasman, Director
Plageman Student Health Building
http://studenthealth.oregonstate.edu/index.php